FAIRFIELD MEDICAL CENTER HONORS VOLUNTEERS AT BANQUET

LANCASTER, Ohio (May 2, 2007) – On April 24, 2007 Fairfield Medical Center held the Annual Volunteer Recognition Dinner. The banquet was to recognize the current volunteers who had service hours during 2006. Mary Coakley, was in attendance, and commented about why she volunteers at Fairfield Medical Center, “After retiring eleven years ago, I was encouraged by a friend of mine that volunteers at Fairfield Medical Center, Esther Coyle, to become a volunteer myself! It has been ten years since that day, I volunteer at the North and South information desk and enjoy every moment of it. Even after moving out of Lancaster, to Carroll, I still take pleasure in volunteering and making a difference.”

Fairfield Medical Center volunteers donated over 20,000 hours of service in 2006. These hours were served in a variety of areas - from the Information Desk to Contracts and Collections, and everywhere in between. Staff Liaisons were also in attendance to honor the volunteers. Approximately 145 people were in attendance. FMC’s own Mike and Resa Tobin entertained the audience with their beautiful harmony. Fairfield Medical Center would once again, like to recognize all the dedication that our volunteers give to us on a daily basis. We are proud to have such caring and hardworking volunteers at the Center.
